Choosing an NVM real estate agent means:

- Leading network

Tapping into the leading network of more than 4,400 real estate agents to get the first pick and best range of housing options.

- Access largest real estate database

This provides real-time information on the national and local market and prices, so your NVM agent knows immediately which houses will go on sale – even when they're not yet listed online.

- Objective expertise

Extensive, objective expertise due to the legal and architectural knowledge and familiarity with the local market that each NVM agent provides. This guarantees a higher level of certainty, reliability and transparency.

- Skilled negotiator

A skilled negotiator, giving you a stronger negotiating position, because the selling agent will take you more seriously. Your real estate agent will also help you avoid unnecessary overbidding.

- Maximum convenience

Thanks to the NVM Code of Conduct, you can rest assured that you are working with well-trained professionals that deliver high standards of service and quality.
